

Widow's Mite Ministry

PURPOSE

The great British preacher, Alexander Maclaren, said when he was nearing the end of his ministry, "If I had to do it over, I would minister more to broken hearts." The purpose of The Widow's Mite is just that – to minister to hearts that are broken.

GOALS

1. To reach out with love and understanding to those who have lost loved ones through death, particularly widows. To provide an atmosphere where they can express their grief and be ministered to.
2. To provide an understanding of the grieving process to those who are experiencing loss and deal with this from a Biblical perspective.
3. To provide a time when hurting people can meet together for fellowship, sharing of needs, Bible study and prayer.
4. To get these experienced gifted women active again by involving them in areas of the church where they feel comfortable.

The local group should set frequency of meetings, but they probably want to meet about twice a month. The meetings could be day or evening meetings, organized at the discretion of each group, considering ages and transportation.
